

Side Events at Arctic Frontiers 2026 Turn of the Tide Conference

Please carefully review the following guidelines and requirements when applying for a Side Event at the Arctic Frontiers 2026 Turn of the Tide conference.

These considerations will help ensure that your event aligns with the conference's themes, maximizes engagement, and offers the best possible experience to participants and organizers.

Live Streaming and Broadcasting:

- Regular and Large Side Events will be live-streamed to the Arctic Frontiers digital platform. Prices include all necessary equipment and a technician.
- You will receive a streaming link to broadcast the event on your platforms.

Speaker Requirements:

- A minimum of two confirmed speakers is required for your Side Event proposal.
- Each speaker's photograph (square, high-quality) and a short bio (max 300 words) must be included with your submission.

Alignment with Conference Themes:

- Side Events should reflect the conference's overarching themes and complement the Science and Big Picture sessions.
- Events are intended to provide a deep dive into specific topics, offering value to partners, delegates, and external organizers.

Priority Considerations:

- Due to limited slots, priority will be given to Arctic Frontiers partners and events closely aligned with the Big Picture and Science themes.
- We particularly encourage proposals featuring collaboration between multiple Arctic Frontiers partner institutions and those with a diverse range of speakers and organizing committee members.

Registration Requirements:

- All participants, speakers, and organizers of Side Events must be registered for at least the day of their event.

Benefits of Hosting a Side Event:

- Approved Side Events will be integrated into the official conference program.
- Side Events will be promoted on the Arctic Frontiers website and social media channels, providing increased visibility and brand recognition throughout the conference.
- By hosting a Side Event, organizers actively contribute to the dialogue at the Arctic Frontiers conference.
